Mi mero mole !

The State is located in the heart of Mexico. It is the right place to experience the history, since Puebla has been a leading actor in many important events. This place combines the pre-Hispanic culture, the Palafox's heritage, the ideas of the Revolution, and the modern expressions of art and culture.

The State of Puebla has a natural richness, which is characterized by its diversity: it has mountains, desert like areas, valleys, lakes, forests, rivers, volcanoes etc. As a consequence, the climate also varies and presents considerable differences depending on the region, changing from cold to warm and from dry to humid. Due to this, ever since the pre-Hispanic era, several important cultures settled in this area and the geography was fundamental for their development. After the conquest, the City of Puebla was the first to be founded in the state, on April the 16th of 1531, as a social and human experiment, in which a group of civilians headed by Fray Toribio de Benavente participated.

The majestic City of Puebla and other important cities were built with the labor and art of the Indians of the area, as well as that of enterprising Spaniards. Therefore, the area thrived with agriculture and cattle raising. In what architecture concerns, churches, schools, hospitals and homes were built, and it is here where cultural syncretism left one of its most important legacies; in the historical center of the City of Puebla which was declared "Cultural Heritage of Mankind" by the UNESCO in 1987, with more than 2600 buildings of great value.

The City of Puebla is located 85 miles away from Mexico City. Modern highways communicates with all the main cities around the country. It has an International Airport, named Hermanos Serdán, as well as an important Bus Station. A place full of culture, charm, traditions, history, beliefs...The magnificent trace of the city has made up the legend that were the angels who did it. Puebla is a jewel of world's architecture and has been able to adapt spaces and fill them with life and movement.

Av. Juárez No. 1920, Col. La Paz. Puebla, Puebla.

Museums

There are interesting museums where our cultural traditions are exhibit; places that are guardians of invaluable jewels of our history. At the Loreto and Guadalupe Forts, we seem to hear combat echoes of the May 5th.'s Battle in 1862; there are also museums that mix technology with art, like the Amparo Museum which uses interactivity; or The San Pedro Museum of Art, that has one of the best painting and sculpture collections in Latin America.

Architecture

The time didn't want to be unnoticed and has kept its presence in shapes and colors. Puebla is one of the outstanding examples of Mexican architecture. The Historical center of Puebla City is a "Cultural Heritage of Humanity". Here, different styles mixed to create a way of living, a unique personality, a pueblan character. The churches of San Francisco Acatepec and Tonanzintla, the Rosario's Chapel, the Alfeñique's House, the Cathedral, the Palafoxian Library, the Dancing Toy House, are important constructions that prove this.

Gastronomy

Something that delights anyone in Puebla is its famous gastronomy, in which we can recognize different regions. It is famous around the world with typical dishes such as "mole poblano", "chiles en nogada", and traditional candies. But its richness doesn't end here, for its food mixes flavors, smells, textures and colors in a perfect way. On one dish we can find Indian and Spanish heritage, decorated with some Arabic and French influences. "Chalupas", "ver-dolagas", "tinga", "pipián", "maguey's worms", "romeritos", "chancas", "cemitas", "molotes", among others, are really good reasons to visit Puebla.
